

Online Discussions Help Expedite Actions that Drive Positive Work Outcomes

Here is a simple example of how an online discussion could advance a team's ability to provide a consistent and improved decision-making process.

Discussion topics support the real-time meeting agenda.

Online Discussion (1 week before meeting)

- Team members are asked to share their department decision-making process maps and share ideas for improvement.
- Team members comment on each other's process maps and offer suggestions, share experiences.

Real-Time Meeting

- E-Leader reviews discussion content and prepares summary to incorporate into meeting agenda.
- Team members have already reviewed the decision-making process maps in the discussion and during the meeting move directly to coming to consensus on improvements to implement.
